

CWA Canada:

Supporting the next generation

CWA Canada is the country's only all-media union, with 7,000 members at companies across the country, including the CBC, The Canadian Press, Thomson Reuters, APTN, Ottawa Citizen, Montreal Gazette and Halifax Chronicle Herald.

We support emerging journalists, photographers, designers, coders, technicians and other media and communications workers by providing training, networking and mentorship opportunities.

Any student, entry-level or career-transitioning media workers are eligible for a free associate membership in CWA Canada.

Why join? You'll get access to:

1. Mentoring by professional media workers.
2. Training courses and union conferences.
3. Networking events.
4. Paid freelancing and internship opportunities.
5. E-newsletters with program updates and links to helpful resources.
6. Info and advice on your rights as a worker.
